Dear Mr. Bevacqua,

I am writing to you to urge you to implement Plan B in a timely manner, in order to begin to save North America's greatest resource, The Great Lakes. Fresh water sources are important to humans for drinking, bathing, industry, agriculture, energy, as well as recreation among others. The Middle East may have oil but little fresh water. Man lived for thousands of years without oil, but not sans water. I know you are concerned as a consumer of water and all it means. Please write to me in response so I can know of your concern and its sincerity.
